

Non-Functional Requirements

1. The user should have more than one way to input basicML instructions into the system.
2. The user should be able to operate on numbers larger than the memory size of 4 digits.
3. The user should be able to save basicML instructions written while using the system